

HOW TO VOTE IN UTAH

A Quick Guide for People with Disabilities Voting in 2023 Local Elections

Note: Utah only has local elections in 2023. To find out if your city/town has an election in 2023, contact the local election office.

There are lots of different words and phrases used in voting and elections. We explain some of these words and phrases in this guide. Other definitions and examples can be found in our Voting Language Resource.

There are also phrases that might change based on where you live. For example, in this guide, we use the term "local election office." In some cities and towns, this office might have a different name. Your local election office might be called the county clerk, county election commission, board of elections, or something else. You can find that information by clicking on the links for each state that we have included in the guide.

REGISTERING TO VOTE

• How can I register to vote?

- You can find out if you are already registered by visiting vote411.org.
- Register to vote online at Utah's online voter registration website.
- Register to vote by downloading, filling out, and returning the Utah voter registration form.

- When do I need to register? The deadline to register online or by mail to vote is 11 days before Election Day. The deadline to register in person to vote is Election Day. You must have two forms of ID to register to vote on Election Day or during the Early Voting period.
- Do I need an identification (ID) to register? You will need a driver's license or non-driver state ID to register to vote. You can use your Social Security number if you don't have a driver's license or non-driver state ID.
- Can I vote if I have a disability? Yes! People with disabilities who are 18 years old or older have the right to vote. Your vote matters and is protected by laws to make sure voting is accessible, independent, and private.
- Can I vote if I have a guardian? In this state, just having a guardian does not automatically take away your right to vote. However, sometimes a court may decide that you cannot vote. If you are not sure, you can check your guardianship order. If your guardianship order does not say anything about voting, this means you can still vote! Your right has only been taken away if your order directly says that. For help understanding your right to vote and guardianship, contact the local Protection and Advocacy Agency \(P&A\).
- Can I vote if I have gone to jail or prison? If you have gone to jail or prison, you should check to see if you are allowed to vote. Some states take away your right to vote if you have gone to jail or prison. Learn about voting rights for people who have gone to jail or prison. You can also learn more from the Campaign Legal Center or contact the local P&A.

LEARNING ABOUT THE ISSUES

- What is a ballot? A ballot is a list of who and what you are voting for. Your ballot will list candidates who are running for different offices, such as School Board members, City Council members, or State Representatives. You vote by marking your choice on the ballot. If you are voting by marking a paper ballot, and not using a voting machine, make sure to look at both sides of the ballot. Sometimes, your ballot has choices on both sides.

- What is a ballot measure? Sometimes, your ballot will have ballot measures. A ballot measure is a law, issue, or question that you can vote on. Voters get to decide if they agree or disagree with the ballot measure by voting yes to agree or no to disagree. Learn about ballot measures on our resource page.
- Can I look at my ballot before I go to vote? Enter your home address in Ballotpedia's Sample Ballot Lookup. This tool will give you a "sample ballot," which will show you what will be on your ballot when you vote.

VOTING IN PERSON

- Where do I need to go to vote? Most voters in Utah vote by mail. Learn about voting by mail below. If you need help voting or you want to vote in person, you can go to a vote center. You can find your local vote center through the Utah Secretary of State's website. Find your vote center.
- Do I need an ID to vote in person? This state requires voters to show an ID to vote in person. Learn about voter ID.
- What if I need help with filling out my ballot? You are allowed to have someone help you fill out your ballot.
- Who can help me with filling out my ballot? You may choose someone you know to help you vote or ask for help from a poll worker at the vote center. Your boss cannot help you vote. If you are part of a labor union at work, the person who helps you vote cannot be your labor union representative. Learn about labor unions on our resource page. Your helper cannot be a candidate who is currently running for office and whose name is on the ballot you are voting on.

- Can I vote before Election Day? This state allows any voter to vote in person before Election Day during the Early Voting period. The early voting period starts 2 weeks before Election Day and ends the Friday before Election Day. Vote early to avoid lines on Election Day!
- Can I vote outside of the vote center if it is inaccessible? This state does not usually allow voters to vote outside the vote center if it is inaccessible. However, some vote centers may offer this option, which is called curbside voting. Contact the local election office for more information. You can also contact the Secretary of State's office for assistance or vote by mail.

VOTING BY MAIL

- Can I vote by mail? Any voter in this state can vote by mail. (If a vote center is not accessible to people with disabilities, this is another way for you to vote.)
- Do I need an ID to vote by mail? You must write your Utah driver's license number, non-driver state ID number, voter ID number, or the last 4 digits of your Social Security number on the ballot return envelope.
- How do I request a mail ballot? If you are registered to vote, the local election office will automatically send you a mail ballot. Be sure to register by the voter registration deadline to vote by mail.
- Can I get an electronic vote by mail ballot? This state allows voters with disabilities to request an email or fax ballot. They can fill out the ballot on their computer, print it, and return the ballot. Voters with disabilities in Utah County do not have to print their ballot, and they can return their ballot electronically. Contact the local election office to find out if you can request an electronic ballot to vote in local elections in 2023.

- What if I need help with filling out my ballot? You are allowed to have someone help you fill out your ballot. Your boss cannot help you vote. If you are part of a labor union at work, the person who helps you vote cannot be your labor union representative. Learn about labor unions on our resource page. Your helper cannot be a candidate who is currently running for office and whose name is on the ballot you are voting on. The person who helps you may need to complete a form called an affidavit to be returned with the ballot. An affidavit is a written statement. When someone signs an affidavit, they promise that they are telling the truth.
- Do I need to sign my ballot envelope? Follow the instructions on the envelope to sign your envelope when asked. This state requires this signature to match the signature on your voter registration form.
- How do I return my ballot? You can return your ballot by mail or deliver it to an early voting location or Election Day voting location. Some counties may have drop boxes. If you are returning your ballot by mail, it must be postmarked by the day before Election Day and received by 12 p.m. (noon) on the day of county canvass. County canvass is the day that the county counts the ballots. Contact the local election office to find out the date of county canvass. If you are delivering your ballot, it must be received by Election Day.
- Can someone return my ballot for me? Yes, you may choose to have someone return your ballot for you if you have a disability.
- Can I track my ballot? Yes, you can track your ballot online to see if the local election office has received it. You can do this on the Utah Secretary of State's website. Track your ballot.
