

HOW TO VOTE IN NORTH CAROLINA

A Quick Guide for People with Disabilities Voting in Primary Election on Tuesday, March 5, 2024

Note: There are lots of different words and phrases used in voting and elections. We explain some of these words and phrases in this guide. Other definitions and examples can be found in our Voting Language Resource.

There are also phrases that might change based on where you live. For example, in this guide, we use the term "local election office." In some cities and towns, this office might have a different name. Your local election office might be called the county clerk, county election commission, board of elections, or something else. You can find that information by clicking on the links for each state that we have included in the guide.

LEARNING ABOUT THE ISSUES

- What is a primary election? In some elections, only 1 person from each political party can run for an elected official position. For example, only 1 Democrat candidate and 1 Republican candidate can run in a race to become a President or Senator. But lots of people want to be elected officials, so the state hosts two elections. In the first election, every party votes on who their candidate will be. This is called a primary election. Then, there is a second election that happens later with the winners of the primary election. This is called the general election. In the general election, everyone votes for which of these candidates they want to be elected to each office.

- What is a ballot? A ballot is a list of who and what you are voting for. Your ballot will list candidates who are running for different offices, such as President, Senator, or Member of Congress. You vote by marking your choice on the ballot. If you are voting by marking a paper ballot and not using a voting machine, make sure to look at both sides of the ballot. Sometimes, your ballot has choices on both sides.
- Can I look at my ballot before I go to vote? Enter your home address in Ballotpedia's Sample Ballot Lookup. This tool will give you a "sample ballot," which will show you what will be on your ballot when you vote.

VOTING IN PERSON

- Where do I need to go to vote? The place where you go to vote in person is called a polling place. You can find your local polling place through the North Carolina State Board of Elections website. Find your polling place.
- Do I need an ID to vote in person? This state requires voters to show a photo ID to vote in person. Learn about voter ID.
- What if I need help with filling out my ballot? You are allowed to have someone help you fill out your ballot.
- Who can help me with filling out my ballot? If you need help with voting, you can have a family member assist you. That family member can be a spouse, parent, grandparent, sibling, child, grandchild, mother in law, father in law, stepparent, or stepchild. Voters who have a physical disability, who are blind, or who can't read the ballot can choose someone who isn't a family member help them vote. Your boss cannot help you vote. If you are part of a labor union at work, the person who helps you vote cannot be your labor union representative. Learn about labor unions on our resource page.
- Can I vote before Election Day? This state allows any voter to vote in person before Election Day during the Early Voting period. The early voting period is set by the local election office, but it generally starts on Thursday, February 15 and ends on Saturday, March 2. Contact the local election office or view this schedule to find early voting locations in your area.

- Can I vote outside of the polling place if it is inaccessible? This state allows voters to vote outside the polling place if it is inaccessible or you have a physical disability. This is called curbside voting. Contact the local election office for more information about curbside voting.

- Do I need an ID to vote by mail? You must include your North Carolina driver's license or non-driver state ID number when you apply for a mail-in ballot. If you don't have a driver's license or non-driver state ID number, you can use the last four digits of your Social Security number.

a relative or legal guardian to help you, you can have someone else help you.
